The Council shall serve as a forum for discussing and proposing solutions to industry-related problems.

The Council shall act as a liaison among the stakeholders represented by the membership, and may provide a forum for those stakeholders on current and emerging issues in the manufacturing sector, ensuring regular contact between the government and the U.S. manufacturing industry.

The Council shall recommend ways to ensure that the United States remains the preeminent destination for investment in manufacturing throughout the world.

The Council shall report to the Secretary on its activities and recommendations regarding United States manufacturing. In creating the reports, the Council should survey and evaluate the manufacturing activities of the stakeholders represented by the membership, should identify and examine specific problems facing the manufacturing industry, and should examine the needs of the industry to inform the Council's efforts. The Council should recommend specific solutions to these problems and needs.

5. Agency or Official to Whom the Council Reports. The Council shall report to the Secretary through the Under Secretary of Commerce for International Trade and the Assistant Secretary for Industry and Analysis.
